TO WITHDRAW SUBSCRIPTIONS

Thus They Expect to Force Editors to Heed Complaints.

Having received numerous favorable responses to their appeal for a "clean press" the committee, composed of Morney Williams, Edward D. Finch, and Dr. Charles F. McKenna, who are the originators of the movement, are preparing to take further steps of a more definite character.

They believe they have a plan which, with sufficient public opinion behind it, will result in eliminating those features of the daily news to which they object. Letters have been received from all parts of the country congratulating the committeemen on the stand they have taken. A large number of men prominent in various organizations in this city have come forward and identified themselves with the movement.

According to Dr. McKenna the matter will be brought directly to the notice of newspaper editors as soon as public opinion is sufficiently definite.

Business Proposition.

"Our stand will be in the nature of a straightforward business proposition," he said. "We are convinced that there are enough people on our side of the question to make a determined stand, which the papers must recognize as affecting seriously their circulation."

"It is on that score that we intend to push our attack. From what we are able to learn there is an unusually strong sentiment on our side among a large class of people who at present patronize the 'yellow' papers."

"These people are disgusted with the class of news put before them, and we depend largely on them to bring the editors to terms."

"Now, if I write a letter of protest to the paper I read, asking that certain objectionable features be eliminated, there is, of course, not much chance of success. But, if several hundred thousand regular subscribers feel as I do and voice their opinion in this way, the editor is bound to take notice."

Claim for Recognition.

"We believe we can enlist that number of people in our cause. You would be surprised to see how strong the feeling throughout the country is among newspaper readers. And with that many readers on our side we may expect the editors to recognize our complaint."

"We shall tell them that we have withdrawn our subscription, and shall cease to buy the papers in question until the news that is printed is of such a character that it will no longer be a bad influence in the home. Few newspapers could stand the loss of so many readers."

"At present they fill their columns with details of a highly objectionable character, because they think their sales are thereby increased."

CRIMINAL WASTE OF NATION'S RESOURCES

should be greatly rewarded by the community; as there is great inequality of service, so there must be great inequality of reward; but no man and no set of men should be allowed to play the game of competition with loaded dice.

"This administration has achieved some things; it has sought, but has not been able, to achieve others; it has doubtless made mistakes; but all it has done or attempted has been in the single consistent effort to secure and enlarge the rights and opportunities of the men and women of the United States. We are trying to conserve what is good in our social system, and we are striving toward this end when we endeavor to do away with what is bad."

"The unchecked existence of monopoly is incompatible with equality of opportunity. We are fighting against privilege."

MORE CHAPLAINS NEEDED IN NAVY

Only Twenty-Four Are Now Allotted to 33,000 Men in Service.

NO INCREASE IN 67 YEARS

Seamen's Friend Society is at Head of Reform Movement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A group of chaplains for the navy has been started. To the new Administration and Congress this demand will be presented by the American Seamen's Friend Society, which has been pressing action to place the American Navy on an equal footing with that of every other nation in this respect for several years. Scores of other national, religious, civic and philanthropic organizations can be counted upon to join them in vigorous efforts to this end, officers of the society declared.

The leaders in this movement believe that more than the usual attention will be paid in the new year to this matter of providing American tars with religious service in life as well as at death. They declare that the records show that not one single chaplain has been added to the naval service in the last sixty-seven years, while the number of enlisted men has grown by the hundred each year.

Only twenty-four chaplains are at present allotted to the 33,000 tars of our navy, ninety-four per cent of whom are taken from American homes in every section of the land.

Only Two Chaplains with Fleet.

The American Seamen's Friend Society will appear here in the near future to urge immediate remedy of these conditions. It will be pointed out to the authorities that, while Great Britain and almost all the foreign Powers provide one chaplain to every ship at sea, only two such officers are allotted to the entire American fleet now cruising about the world.

"The call from American homes throughout the country for the chance of religious service for their boys has never been heeded at Washington," said G. McPherson Hunter, secretary of the Seamen's Friend Society. "Though President Roosevelt, who is one of our vice-presidents, interested himself in the matter, all measures to this end have been quietly neglected and killed for the last fifty years or more. This year, however, we feel that Congress and the new Administration authorities can no longer fail to heed such a demand."

Would Keep Out Japanese.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Many advocates of the anti-Japanese bills, heretofore silent, rushed into print today to arouse the people of California in favor of the bills. The Asiatic Exclusion League sent a fiery letter to Gov. Gillette, urging him to pay no heed to the President and to permit no Federal interference in behalf of the Japanese.

IN FOUR VOLUMES
The White House is the center of the many traditions that go to make our national history truly charming. And there is nothing that can come closer to all American hearts than a History of the White House itself, telling in type, the secrets of its inner walls, showing in portrait the beautiful women and great men who have been its tenants.

In these four booklets, many of the incidents given are but little known to the general public. The lives and personal characteristics of the Ladies of the White House are especially featured. There are dozens of photographs that make you familiar with everything both splendid and curious, to be seen about the Mansion and its grounds. The History of no Court or Palace of any kingdom or country on earth can compare with the charming life about our National Capital.

You should see our History of the White House. Upon receipt of a certificate properly signed by a shoe dealer, showing the purchase of a pair of White House Shoes for Men or Women, which receipt must be accompanied by 4c to cover postage, we will send free of charge, a complete set of the four volumes, or we will send same for 25c without certificate.
